PROFESSIONAL TRAINING SERIES No. 9

HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE:
A Manual on Human Rights for Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers

UNITED NATIONS
CONTENTS

Foreword by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights.................................xxvii
Foreword by the International Bar Association.................................................xxix
Acknowledgements.................................................................................................xxxi
Addendum – Major Recent Developments (2002 – March 2003)...............xxxii
Abbreviations.........................................................................................................xxxiv

Chapter 1
International Human Rights Law and the Role of the Legal Professions: A General Introduction ............1

Learning Objectives.....................................................................................................1
Questions.......................................................................................................................1

1. Introduction ..........................................................................................................2

2. Origin, Meaning and Scope of International Human Rights Law......................2
   2.1 The Charter of the United Nations and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights .........................................................2
   2.2 The ethical dimension of human rights ............................................................4
   2.3 Human rights and their impact on national and international peace, security and development...........................................5
   2.4 The sources of law: ............................................................6
      2.4.1 International treaties..............................................................................7
      2.4.2 International customary law..................................................................8
      2.4.3 General principles of law recognized by the community of nations..............11
      2.4.4 Subsidiary means for the determination of rules of law..............................11
   2.5 International human rights law and international humanitarian law: common concerns and basic differences........................................12
   2.6 Reservations and interpretative declarations to international human rights treaties.........................................................13
   2.7 Limitations on the exercise of rights ...............................................................15
   2.8 Derogations from international legal obligations.............................................16
   2.9 International State responsibility for human rights violations...........................17

4. International Human Rights Law at the Domestic Level....................................20
   4.1 Incorporating international law into domestic legal systems..........................20
4.2 The application of international human rights law in domestic courts: some practical examples.................................................................22

5. The Role of the Legal Professions in the Implementation of Human Rights..............................................................................................25

6. Concluding Remarks...................................................................................................................................................................................25

Chapter 2

The Major Universal Human Rights Instruments and the Mechanisms for Their Implementation.......................27

Learning Objectives.....................................................................................................................................................................................27

Questions..............................................................................................................................................................................................................27

1. Introduction........................................................................................................................................................................................................28

  1.1 Scope of the chapter ..................................................................................................................................................................................28

  1.2 The international treaty-based control mechanisms ..........................................................................................................................28

  1.3 Civil and political rights, and economic, social and cultural rights.................30

2. The Major United Nations Human Rights Treaties and their Implementation .................................................................................................................31

    2.1.1 The undertakings of the States parties...............................................................................................................................31

    2.1.2 The rights recognized ..............................................................................................................................................................32

    2.1.3 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights......................................................................................................................34

    2.1.4 Permissible derogations from legal obligations ......................................................................................................................36

    2.1.5 The implementation mechanisms ........................................................................................................................................38

  2.2 The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1966.........................................................................................................39

    2.2.1 The undertakings of the States parties...............................................................................................................................40

    2.2.2 The rights recognized ..............................................................................................................................................................40

    2.2.3 Permissible limitations on rights............................................................................................................................................41

    2.2.4 The implementation mechanism ........................................................................................................................................42

    2.3.1 The undertakings of the States parties...............................................................................................................................43

    2.3.2 The rights recognized ..............................................................................................................................................................44

    2.3.3 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights......................................................................................................................46

    2.3.4 The implementation mechanism ........................................................................................................................................47

  2.4 The Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, 1948 ..........................................................47

    2.4.1 The undertakings of the States parties...............................................................................................................................48

    2.4.2 The legal scope of the Convention ........................................................................................................................................48

    2.4.3 International crimes: recent legal developments....................................................................................................................49
2.5 The International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, 1965
2.5.1 The undertakings of the States parties
2.5.2 The field of non-discrimination protected
2.5.3 The implementation mechanism

2.6 The Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, 1984
2.6.1 The undertakings of the States parties
2.6.2 The legal scope of the Convention
2.6.3 The implementation mechanism

2.7.1 The undertakings of the States parties
2.7.2 The specific legal scope of the Convention
2.7.3 The implementation mechanisms

3. Other Instruments Adopted by the United Nations General Assembly
3.1 The Declaration on the Elimination of All Forms of Intolerance and of Discrimination Based on Religion or Belief, 1981
3.2 The Basic Principles for the Treatment of Prisoners, 1990
3.3 The Body of Principles for the Protection of All Persons under Any Form of Detention or Imprisonment, 1988
3.4 The United Nations Rules for the Protection of Juveniles Deprived of their Liberty, 1990
3.5 The Principles of Medical Ethics relevant to the Role of Health Personnel, particularly Physicians, in the Protection of Prisoners and Detainees against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, 1982
3.6 The Code of Conduct for Law Enforcement Officials, 1979
3.8 The United Nations Guidelines for the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency (The Riyadh Guidelines), 1990
3.9 The United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Administration of Juvenile Justice (The Beijing Rules), 1985
3.10 The Declaration of Basic Principles of Justice for Victims of Crime and Abuse of Power, 1985
3.11 The Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance, 1992
3.12 The Declaration on the Right and Responsibility of Individuals, Groups and Organs of Society to Promote and Protect Universally Recognized Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, 1998

Chapter 3
The Major Regional Human Rights Instruments and the Mechanisms for Their Implementation

Learning Objectives

Questions

1. Introduction

2. African Human Rights Treaties and their Implementation
   2.1 The African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights, 1981
   2.1.1 The undertakings of the States parties
   2.1.2 The individual and collective rights recognized
   2.1.3 The individual duties
   2.1.4 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights
   2.1.5 Derogations from legal obligations
   2.1.6 The implementation mechanism
   2.2.1 The undertakings of the States parties
   2.2.2 The rights recognized
   2.2.3 The child’s duties
   2.2.4 The implementation mechanism

3. American Human Rights Treaties and their Implementation
   3.1 The American Convention on Human Rights, 1969, and its Protocols of 1988 and 1990
   3.1.1 The undertakings of the States parties
   3.1.2 The rights recognized
   3.1.3 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights
   3.1.4 Permissible derogations from legal obligations
   3.1.5 The implementation mechanism
   3.2 The Inter-American Convention to Prevent and Punish Torture, 1985
   3.2.1 The scope of the Convention
   3.2.2 The undertakings of the States parties
   3.2.3 The implementation mechanism
   3.3 The Inter-American Convention on Forced Disappearance of Persons, 1994
   3.3.1 The scope of the Convention
   3.3.2 The undertakings of the States parties
3.3.3 The implementation mechanism ................................................................. 92

3.4 The Inter-American Convention on the Prevention, Punishment and Eradication of Violence against Women, 1994 .............................................. 93
  3.4.1 The scope of the Convention ................................................................. 93
  3.4.2 The undertakings of the States parties .................................................. 94
  3.4.3 The implementation mechanism ............................................................. 94

4. European Human Rights Treaties and Their Implementation .................. 95
  4.1 The European Convention on Human Rights, 1950, and its Protocols Nos. 1, 4, 6 and 7 ................................................................. 95
    4.1.1 The undertakings of the States parties ................................................. 95
    4.1.2 The rights guaranteed ......................................................................... 95
    4.1.3 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights ................................ 97
    4.1.4 Permissible derogations from legal obligations ................................... 99
    4.1.5 The implementation mechanism ......................................................... 100
    4.2.1 The undertakings of the States parties ................................................. 102
    4.2.2 The rights recognized .......................................................................... 102
    4.2.3 Permissible limitation on the exercise of rights .................................... 103
    4.2.4 Permissible derogations from legal obligations ................................... 104
    4.2.5 The implementation mechanism ......................................................... 104
  4.3 The European Social Charter (revised), 1996 ......................................... 106
  4.4 The European Convention for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, 1987 ............................ 107
    4.4.1 The undertakings of the States parties and the monitoring mechanism ................................................................. 107
  4.5 The Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities, 1995 ...................................................................................... 108
    4.5.1 The undertakings of the States parties ................................................. 109
    4.5.2 Permissible limitations on the exercise of rights ................................ 110
    4.5.3 The implementation mechanism ......................................................... 110

5. Concluding Remarks ...................................................................................... 111

Chapter 4
Independence and Impartiality of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers ....................... 113

Learning Objectives ............................................................................................. 113
Questions ............................................................................................................. 113
Relevant Legal Instruments .................................................................................. 113
1. Introduction ..................................................................................................... 114
2. The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in Upholding the Rule of Law, Including Human Rights Standards ............................................. 115
3. Challenges to the Independence and Impartiality of the Legal Professions

4. International Law and the Independence and Impartiality of the Judiciary
   4.1 Applicable international law
   4.2 Basic Principles on the Independence of the Judiciary, 1985
   4.3 The notions of independence and impartiality: links and basic differences
   4.4 The notion of institutional independence
   4.4.1 Independence as to administrative matters
   4.4.2 Independence as to financial matters
   4.4.3 Independence as to decision-making
   4.4.4 Jurisdictional competence
   4.4.5 The right and duty to ensure fair court proceedings and give reasoned decisions
   4.5 The notion of individual independence
   4.5.1 Appointment
   4.5.2 Security of tenure
   4.5.3 Financial security
   4.5.4 Promotion
   4.5.5 Accountability
   4.5.6 Freedom of expression and association
   4.5.7 Training and education
   4.5.8 The right and duty to ensure fair court proceedings and give reasoned decisions
   4.6 The notion of impartiality
   4.7 Military and other special courts and tribunals

5. International Law and the Independence of Prosecutors
   5.1 Guidelines on the Role of Prosecutors, 1990
   5.2 Professional qualifications
   5.3 Status and conditions of service
   5.4 Freedom of expression and association
   5.5 The role in criminal proceedings
   5.6 Alternatives to prosecution
   5.7 Accountability

6. International Law and the Independence of Lawyers
   6.1 Applicable international law
   6.2 Duties and responsibilities
   6.3 Guarantees for the functioning of lawyers
   6.4 Lawyers and fundamental freedoms
   6.4.1 Executive permission to exercise the legal profession
   6.4.2 The right to peaceful assembly
   6.4.3 The right to freedom of association
   6.4.4 The right to freedom of expression
Chapter 5
Human Rights and Arrest, Pre-trial Detention and Administrative Detention

Learning Objectives

Questions

Relevant Legal Instruments

1. Introduction

2. Arrests and Detention without Reasonable Cause: a Persistent Problem

3. The Right to Liberty and Security of the Person: Field of Applicability of the Legal Protection

   3.1 Universal legal responsibility: All States are bound by the law

   3.2 The notion of security of person: State responsibility to act

4. Lawful Arrests and Detentions

   4.1 The legal texts

   4.2 The notions of lawfulness and arbitrariness: their meaning

      4.2.1 Unacknowledged detentions, abductions and involuntary disappearances

   4.3 Detention after conviction

   4.4 Arrest and detention for non-compliance with the lawful order of a court or in order to secure the fulfilment of any obligation prescribed by law

   4.5 Detention on reasonable suspicion of having committed an offence

      4.5.1 The meaning of “reasonableness”

   4.6 Detention in order to prevent flight

   4.7 Administrative detention

      4.7.1 Deprivation of liberty for the purpose of educational supervision

      4.7.2 Deprivation of liberty for reasons of mental health

      4.7.3 Deprivation of liberty of asylum seekers and for purposes of deportation and extradition

      4.7.4 Preventive detention and detention for reasons of order public

   4.8 The right to be promptly informed of reasons for arrest and detention and of any charges against oneself

   4.9 The right to be promptly brought before a judge or other judicial officer

      4.9.1 The legitimate decision-making organ
5. The Right to Trial within a Reasonable Time or to Release pending Trial .................................................. 190
   5.1 The notion of “reasonable time” ................................................................. 191
   5.2 Alternatives to detention on remand: guarantees to appear at trial .... 195
6. The Right to Have the Lawfulness of the Detention Decided Speedily or Without Delay by a Court .......................................................... 197
   6.1 The legal procedures complying with this requirement .................... 199
   6.2 The notions of “speedily” and “without delay” ...................................... 206
7. The Right of Access to and Assistance of a Lawyer .................................. 208
8. The Right to Compensation in the Event of Unlawful Deprivation of Liberty .......................................................... 209
9. Incommunicado Detention ........................................................................... 210
10. Concluding Remarks ....................................................................................... 211

Chapter 6
The Right to a Fair Trial:
Part I – From Investigation to Trial .................................................. 213

Learning Objectives ................................................................................................. 213
Questions .................................................................................................................. 213
Relevant Legal Instruments .................................................................................... 214
1. Introduction ...................................................................................................... 215
2. The Effective Protection of the Right to a Fair Trial:
   A Global Challenge ......................................................................................... 215
3. The Legal Texts ................................................................................................ 216
4. The Right to Equality before the Law and Equal Treatment by the Law ..................................................................................................... 217
5. The Right to be Presumed Innocent: the Overall Guarantee from Suspicion to Conviction or Acquittal ............................................................ 219
6. Human Rights during Criminal Investigations ............................................ 223
   6.1 The right to respect for one’s private life, home and correspondence ................................................................. 223
      6.1.1 Wire tapping .................................................................................... 224
      6.1.2 Searches .......................................................................................... 227
      6.1.3 Interference with correspondence ..................................................... 228
   6.2 The right to be treated with humanity and the right to freedom from torture .................................................................................................. 230
   6.3 The right to be notified of the charges in a language one understands .................................................................................................. 232
Chapter 7
The Right to a Fair Trial:
Part II – From Trial to Final Judgement

Learning Objectives
Questions
Relevant Legal Instruments
1. Introduction
2. The Legal Provisions
3. Human Rights during Trial...
   3.1 The right to be tried by a competent, independent and impartial tribunal established by law
   3.2 The right to a fair hearing
      3.2.1 The right of access to a court or tribunal
      3.2.2 The right to equality of arms and adversarial proceedings
      3.2.3 The detention of witnesses
      3.2.4 Judge’s instructions to the jury
   3.3 The right to a public hearing
      3.3.1 The right to a public judgement
   3.4 The right to be tried “without undue delay” or “within a reasonable time”
   3.5 The right to defend oneself in person or through a lawyer of one’s own choice
      3.5.1 The right to effective legal assistance in death penalty cases
      3.5.2 The right to free legal aid
      3.5.3 The right to privileged communications with one’s lawyer
   3.6 The right to be present at one’s trial
      3.6.1 Trials in absentia
   3.7 The right not to be compelled to testify against oneself or to confess guilt
      3.7.1 Prohibition on the use of evidence obtained through unlawful means/treatment
   3.8 The right to call, examine, or have examined, witnesses
      3.8.1 Anonymous witnesses
3.9 The right to free assistance of an interpreter ............................................... 291
3.10 The right to a reasoned judgement .......................................................... 293
  3.10.1 The lack of a reasoned judgement and capital punishment cases ................. 294
3.11 Freedom from ex post facto laws/The principle of nullum crimen sine lege........................ 295
3.12 The principle of ne bis in idem, or prohibition of double jeopardy .......... 297

4. Limits on Punishment ..................................................................................... 301
  4.1 The right to benefit from a lighter penalty ................................................... 301
  4.2 Consistency with international legal standards ............................................ 301
    4.2.1 Corporal punishment ................................................................................ 302
    4.2.2 Capital punishment ................................................................................. 303

5. The Right of Appeal ........................................................................................ 305
  5.1 The right to full review .................................................................................... 306
  5.2 The availability of a judgement ..................................................................... 307
  5.3 Transcripts of the trial ..................................................................................... 307
  5.4 Preservation of evidence ................................................................................. 307
  5.5 The right to legal aid ........................................................................................ 308

6. The Right to Compensation in the Event of a Miscarriage of Justice .... 309

7. The Right to a Fair Trial and Special Tribunals .......................................... 310

8. The Right to a Fair Trial in Public Emergencies......................................... 311

9. Concluding Remarks ....................................................................................... 313

Chapter 8
International Legal Standards for the Protection of Persons Deprived of Their Liberty .......................... 315

Learning Objectives ................................................................................................. 315
Questions .................................................................................................................. 315
Relevant Legal Instruments .................................................................................... 316

1. Introduction ...................................................................................................... 317
  1.1 Use of terms ...................................................................................................... 318

2. The Prohibition of Torture and Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment ................................................................. 318
  2.1 Introductory remarks ....................................................................................... 318
  2.2 Legal responsibilities of States ....................................................................... 319
  2.3 The notions of torture and cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment: definitions and understandings ..................................................... 323
    2.3.1 Rape as torture ........................................................................................ 325
    2.3.2 Treatment of detainees and prisoners ......................................................... 327
Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2.3.3</td>
<td>Corporal punishment</td>
<td>330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3.4</td>
<td>Medical or scientific experimentation</td>
<td>331</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.4</td>
<td>Torture and law enforcement officials, health personnel and prosecutors</td>
<td>332</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>
<td>Legal Requirements as to Places of Detention and Registration of Detainees and Prisoners</td>
<td>334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1</td>
<td>Official recognition of all places of detention</td>
<td>334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.2</td>
<td>Registration of detainees and prisoners</td>
<td>335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>
<td>Conditions of Detention and Imprisonment</td>
<td>337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1</td>
<td>Basic principles governing detention and imprisonment</td>
<td>337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.2</td>
<td>Accommodation</td>
<td>339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.2.1</td>
<td>Separation of categories</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3</td>
<td>Personal hygiene, food, health and medical services</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.4</td>
<td>Religion</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.5</td>
<td>Recreational activities</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.6</td>
<td>Solitary confinement</td>
<td>350</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.6.1</td>
<td>Incommunicado detention</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.</td>
<td>Contacts with the Outside World</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1</td>
<td>Contact with family members and friends: visits and correspondence</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1.1</td>
<td>The rights of visitors to detainees and prisoners</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>Contact with lawyers: visits and correspondence</td>
<td>360</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.</td>
<td>Inspection of Places of Detention and Complaints Procedures</td>
<td>365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.1</td>
<td>Inspection of places of detention</td>
<td>365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2</td>
<td>Complaints procedures</td>
<td>366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.</td>
<td>The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in Preventing and Remedying Unlawful Treatment of Persons Deprived of their Liberty</td>
<td>369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.</td>
<td>Concluding Remarks</td>
<td>370</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chapter 9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Use of Non-Custodial Measures in the Administration of Justice</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Learning Objectives</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Questions</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Relevant Legal Instruments</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.</td>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.1</td>
<td>The purpose of non-custodial measures and the Tokyo Rules</td>
<td>373</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
2. Terminology......................................................................................................374
   2.1 The term “non-custodial measures” .............................................................374
   2.2 The term “offender”....................................................................................374
   2.3 The term “competent authority”.................................................................375
3. General Principles Relating to Non-custodial Measures .........................375
   3.1 The fundamental aims of non-custodial measures .....................................375
   3.2 The scope of non-custodial measures..........................................................377
      3.2.1 The general scope of non-custodial measures........................................377
      3.2.2 The prohibition of discrimination..........................................................377
      3.2.3 Flexibility in application .....................................................................378
   3.3 Legal safeguards ..........................................................................................380
      3.3.1 The principle of legality.......................................................................380
      3.3.2 The criteria for resorting to non-custodial measures and the need for discretion ........................................................................................................380
      3.3.3 The requirement of consent....................................................................381
      3.3.4 The right to review ..............................................................................381
      3.3.5 Restrictions on the imposition of non-custodial measures ......................382
4. Non-custodial Options at the Different Stages of the Judicial Process ..............................................................................................................384
   4.1 Non-custodial measures at the pre-trial stage ............................................384
   4.2 Non-custodial measures at the trial and sentencing stage ..........................385
   4.3 Non-custodial measures at the post-sentencing stage ..................................387
5. Implementation of Non-custodial Measures ..............................................389
   5.1 The supervision of non-custodial measures ..............................................389
   5.2 The duration of non-custodial measures .................................................391
   5.3 The conditions attached to non-custodial measures ..................................391
   5.4 The treatment process ..............................................................................392
   5.5 Discipline and breach of conditions.........................................................393
6. The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in Choosing
   Alternatives to Imprisonment ........................................................................395
7. Concluding Remarks ......................................................................................396

Chapter 10
The Rights of the Child in the Administration of Justice ....397

Learning Objectives ..........................................................................................397
Questions ...........................................................................................................397
Relevant Legal Instruments ..............................................................................398
1. Introduction .....................................................................................................399
   1.1 Terminology ............................................................................................400
2. The Administration of Justice and Children: Persistent Concerns ..........400
3. The Definition of “Child” .................................................................401
   3.1 The age of majority in general .....................................................401
   3.2 The age of criminal responsibility ..............................................401
4. The Rights of the Child in the Administration of Justice:
   Some Basic Principles ....................................................................404
   4.1 The principle of non-discrimination ...........................................404
   4.2 The best interests of the child .....................................................405
   4.3 The child’s right to life, survival and development ......................406
   4.4 The child’s right to be heard .....................................................407
5. The Aims of Juvenile Justice .........................................................408
6. The Duty to Create a Juvenile Justice System ..................................411
7. The Accused Child and the Administration of Justice .......................411
   7.1 The right to freedom from torture and from cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment .................................................412
   7.2 General treatment of the child/the child’s best interests ..........413
   7.3 Some fundamental procedural rights ..........................................414
      7.3.1 The principle of nullum crimen sine lege ..............................414
      7.3.2 The right to be presumed innocent ....................................415
      7.3.3 The right to prompt information and the right to legal assistance415
      7.3.4 The right to be tried without delay ....................................416
      7.3.5 The right not to incriminate oneself and the right to examine and have witnesses ........................................................................417
      7.3.6 The right to review ................................................................417
      7.3.7 The right to free assistance of an interpreter .....................418
      7.3.8 The right to respect for privacy .........................................418
8. The Child and Deprivation of Liberty ..............................................420
   8.1 The meaning of deprivation of liberty .......................................421
   8.2 Deprivation of liberty: a measure of last resort ..........................421
   8.3 The rights of the child deprived of liberty ..................................422
      8.3.1 The right to humane treatment ..........................................422
      8.3.2 The right of the child to be separated from adults ...............423
      8.3.3 The right of the child to remain in contact with his or her family424
      8.3.4 The child’s rights to prompt access to legal assistance and to legal challenge of detention .........................................................424
      8.3.5 The child and the general conditions of detention .............425
      8.3.6 The rights of the child and disciplinary measures ...............427
9. The Rights of the Child and Penal Sanctions ....................................429
10. The Accused Child and the Question of Diversion ............................430
   10.1 The meaning of the term “diversion” ......................................430
   10.2 Diversion and the responsible authorities ...............................431
Chapter 11
Women’s Rights in the Administration of Justice ..........445

Learning Objectives .........................................................................................445

Questions ............................................................................................................445

Relevant Legal Instruments ................................................................................446

1. Introduction ..................................................................................................447

2. Women’s Right to Legal Personality ..........................................................449

3. Women’s Right to Equality Before the Law and Equal Protection of the Law ....450
   3.1 The Charter of the United Nations and the International Bill of Human Rights ...450
   3.2 The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, 1979 ....450
   3.3 Regional human rights treaties ..................................................................453
   3.4 The meaning of the principle of gender equality and non-discrimination between women and men .........................................................................................................................453
       3.4.1 The general meaning of equality and non-discrimination .................454
       3.4.2 The meaning of equality between women and men ..........................454

4. Women’s Right to Respect for their Life and their Physical and Mental Integrity ..........458
   4.1 Relevant legal provisions ...........................................................................458
   4.2 The right to life ..........................................................................................461
       4.2.1 Abduction and murder .....................................................................461
       4.2.2 Dowry violence and “honour” killings .............................................462
       4.2.3 Female genital mutilation .................................................................463
4.2.4 Abortion..................................................................................................464
4.2.5 Infant mortality and life expectancy ..........................................................465

4.3 The right to freedom from torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.....................................................................466
4.3.1 Violence against women deprived of their liberty........................................467
4.3.2 Unlawful punishments .............................................................................469
4.3.3 Violence against women and the girl child in families and the community in general................................................................................472

4.4 Violence against women as crimes against humanity and war crimes........................................................................................................477

5. Women’s Right to Freedom from Slavery, the Slave Trade,
Forced and Compulsory Labour, and Trafficking......................................478

5.1 Relevant legal provisions.................................................................................478
  5.1.1 Slavery, the slave trade and servitude ........................................................478
  5.1.2 Forced and compulsory labour...................................................................479
  5.1.3 Trafficking...............................................................................................479

5.2 The practice of slavery, forced and compulsory labour, and trafficking in women........................................................................................481

6. The Right to Equality in respect of Marriage ..............................................484

6.1 The right of intending spouses to marry freely and to found a family...............................................................................................................484
  6.1.1 Polygamous marriages ..............................................................................486
  6.1.2 The marriageable age................................................................................487
  6.1.3 Other de jure and de facto impediments to the right to marry freely.............488
  6.1.4 Restrictions on remarriage.........................................................................489
  6.1.5 Registration of marriages ..........................................................................490
  6.1.6 Meaning of the right to found a family ......................................................491

6.2 Equality of rights in terms of nationality laws .............................................493

6.3 The equal right to a name ...............................................................................495

6.4 Equal rights and responsibilities of spouses as to marriage, during marriage and at its dissolution .............................................................496
  6.4.1 Relevant legal provisions...........................................................................496
  6.4.2 General understanding of the principle of equal rights and responsibilities.................................................................................................497
  6.4.3 Equal right to decision-making.................................................................498
  6.4.4 Equal parental rights and responsibilities..................................................498
  6.4.5 Equal rights to marital property...............................................................499
  6.4.6 The equal right to a profession and an occupation....................................500
  6.4.7 Women living in de facto unions...............................................................500
  6.4.8 Equality with respect to divorce...............................................................501
  6.4.9 The equal right of succession between spouses.......................................501

7. The Equal Right to Legal Capacity in Civil Matters ...................................502

7.1 Equal rights to administer property and conclude contracts ....................502

7.2 The equal right to succession in general.....................................................504
8. The Right to Equal Participation in Public Affairs, including Elections...
   8.1 Relevant legal provisions.................................................................505
   8.2 The interpretation of article 25 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights ..........................................................507
   8.3 The interpretation of articles 7 and 8 of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women........508

9. Women’s Right to Equal Enjoyment of Other Human Rights........511
   9.1 The right to freedom of movement and residence .....................511
   9.2 The right to privacy.................................................................512
   9.3 Freedom of thought, conscience, belief, religion, opinion, expression, association and assembly.......................................................513
   9.4 The right to education...............................................................514

10. Women’s Right to an Effective Remedy, including the Right of Access to the Courts and Due Process of Law .......................516

11. The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in Ensuring Protection of the Rights of Women.......................................................519

12. Concluding Remarks ...........................................................................520

Chapter 12
Some Other Key Rights: Freedom of Thought, Conscience, Religion, Opinion, Expression, Association and Assembly .........................521

Learning Objectives..................................................................................521
Questions ..................................................................................................521
Relevant Legal Instruments........................................................................522

1. Introduction.........................................................................................523

2. The Right to Freedom of Thought, Conscience and Religion........524
   2.1 Relevant legal provisions...............................................................524
   2.2 General meaning of the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion.................................................................525
      2.2.1 Article 18 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.................................................................525
      2.2.2 Article 8 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights..........................................................527
      2.2.3 Article 12 of the American Convention on Human Rights.........527
      2.2.4 Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights ....528
   2.3 The right to manifest one’s religion or belief............................530
      2.3.1 Limitations on the right to manifest one’s religion or belief....533
      2.3.2 Prohibitions on the freedom to manifest one’s religion or belief...540
Chapter 13

The Right to Equality and Non-Discrimination in the Administration of Justice ..................631

| Learning Objectives ................................................................. 631 |
| Questions ...................................................................................... 631 |
| Relevant Legal Instruments .......................................................... 632 |

1. Introduction ................................................................. 633

1.1 Discrimination: A persistent serious human rights violation .......... 633

1.2 The role of judges, prosecutors and lawyers in protecting persons against discrimination .................................................. 634

1.3 Glimpses of international legal history ........................................ 634

1.4 The purpose and scope of the present chapter ............................ 635

2. Selected Universal Legal Provisions Guaranteeing the Right to Equality before the Law and the Right to Non-discrimination .......................... 636

2.1 Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948 .............................. 636

2.2 Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, 1948 .......................................................... 637

2.3 International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, 1966 .............. 638

2.4 International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1966 .......................................................... 639

2.5 International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, 1965 .......................................................... 639

2.6 Convention on the Rights of the Child, 1989 .................................. 640

2.7 Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, 1979 .......................................................... 641

2.8 Declaration on the Elimination of All Forms of Intolerance and of Discrimination Based on Religion or Belief, 1981 .......................................................... 642

2.9 Declaration on the Rights of Persons Belonging to National or Ethnic, Religious and Linguistic Minorities, 1992 .............................. 642
3. Selected Regional Legal Provisions Guaranteeing the Right to Equality before the Law and the Right to Non-discrimination...............643
  3.1 African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights, 1981.........................643
  3.3 American Convention on Human Rights, 1969................................644
  3.4 Additional Protocol to the American Convention on Human Rights in the Area of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1988........645
  3.5 Inter-American Convention on the Prevention, Punishment, and Eradication of Violence against Women, 1994.................................645
  3.6 Inter-American Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Persons with Disabilities, 1999.........................646
  3.7 European Convention on Human Rights, 1950..................................646
  3.8 European Social Charter, 1961, and European Social Charter (revised), 1996.................................................................................................647
  3.9 Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities, 1994........................................................................................................648

4. The Prohibition of Discrimination and Public Emergencies...............649

5. The General Meaning of Equality and Non-Discrimination...............651

  6.1 Race, colour or ethnic origin.................................................................656
     6.1.1 Racial slurs....................................................................................656
     6.1.2 The right to freedom of movement and residence.................................657
     6.1.3 Racial and ethnic discrimination in law enforcement..........................658
     6.1.4 Racial discrimination in ensuring economic, social and cultural rights....658
  6.2 Gender....................................................................................................659
     6.2.1 The right to represent matrimonial property.........................................659
     6.2.2 Right to respect for family life...............................................................659
     6.2.3 Preferential pension rights.................................................................661
     6.2.4 Social security benefits......................................................................662
     6.2.5 Contributions to general child-care benefit schemes..............................662
     6.2.6 Parental leave allowance....................................................................663
     6.2.7 Acquisition of citizenship..................................................................664
  6.3 Language..................................................................................................665
  6.4 Religion or belief......................................................................................666
     6.4.1 Conscientious objection to military service...........................................666
     6.4.2 Duty to wear safety gear at work..........................................................668
     6.4.3 Public funding of religious schools.......................................................669
     6.4.4 Lack of public-law status for purposes of bringing court proceedings.....669
  6.5 Property....................................................................................................670
  6.6 Birth or other status................................................................................671
     6.6.1 Social security benefits for married/unmarried couples..........................671
     6.6.2 Inheritance rights..................................................................................672
     6.6.3 Conditions of birth or descent for presidential candidates......................673
Chapter 14
The Role of the Courts in Protecting Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

Learning Objectives
Questions
Relevant Legal Instruments
1. Introduction
2. History Revisited: Why are there Two International Covenants on Human Rights?
   2.1 A chronological overview
   2.2 The substance of the debates
      2.2.1 Principal arguments in favour of one covenant
      2.2.2 Principal arguments in favour of two covenants
      2.2.3 Pleadings in favour of a practical solution
      2.2.4 The question of justiciability
3. Interdependence and Indivisibility of Human Rights
   4.1 The universal level
      4.1.1 International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1966
   4.2 The regional level
      4.2.1 African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights, 1981
      4.2.2 American Convention on Human Rights, 1969, including the Additional Protocol in the Area of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1988
      4.2.3 European Social Charter, 1961, and European Social Charter (revised), 1996
5. The Legal Obligations of States to Protect Economic, Social and Cultural Rights
   5.1 International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1966
      5.1.1 Introductory remarks
      5.1.2 The obligation of conduct
5.1.3 The obligation of result ................................................................. 703
5.1.4 The obligation to give effect: the provision of domestic remedies ...... 704

5.2 African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights, 1981 ......................... 705

5.4 European Social Charter, 1961, and European Social Charter (revised), 1996 ................................................................. 706

7. Case Study I: The Right to Adequate Housing .................................... 710
7.1 Introductory remarks ......................................................................... 710
7.2 International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights:
article 11(1) ........................................................................................... 711
7.2.1 Persons covered by the right .......................................................... 712
7.2.2 Interpretative approach, including interdependence of rights .......... 713
7.2.3 The concept of adequacy .............................................................. 713
7.2.4 Immediate legal obligations .......................................................... 714
7.2.5 Domestic remedies ....................................................................... 715
7.2.6 Forced evictions ........................................................................... 716
7.3 Relevant European case law: The Selçuk and Arker case .................... 719
7.4 Relevant domestic case law: The example of South Africa ................. 721

8. Case Study II: The Right to Health .................................................... 730
8.1 International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights:
article 12 .............................................................................................. 730
8.1.1 The normative content of article 12(1) .......................................... 731
8.1.2 The meaning of the provisions in article 12(2) .............................. 732
8.1.3 The obligations of States parties .................................................... 734
8.1.4 The core obligations ................................................................. 736
8.1.5 Violations of article 12 ............................................................... 737
8.1.6 Implementation at the national level .......................................... 738
8.2 Relevant domestic case law I: The example of Canada ...................... 740
8.3 Relevant domestic case law II: The example of India .......................... 744

9. The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in the Protection of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights: Lessons Learned ...................... 748

10. Concluding Remarks ......................................................................... 748

Chapter 15
Protection and Redress for Victims of Crime and Human Rights Violations .................................................. 749

Learning Objectives ................................................................. 749
Questions .................................................................................... 749
Relevant Legal Instruments

1. Introduction

2. Protection and Redress for Victims of Crime
   2.1 Relevant legal provisions
      2.1.1 The universal level
      2.1.2 The regional level
   2.2 The notion of victim
   2.3 Treatment of victims in the administration of justice
      2.3.1 Treatment of victims by the police
      2.3.2 Treatment of victims by the prosecution
      2.3.3 Questioning of victims during criminal procedures
      2.3.4 Victims and criminal court proceedings
      2.3.5 Victims’ right to protection of their private life and their safety
   2.4 Restitution, compensation and assistance to victims of crime
      2.4.1 General remarks
      2.4.2 Restitution
      2.4.3 Compensation
      2.4.4 Assistance

3. Protection and Redress for Victims of Human Rights Violations
   3.1 The notion of victim
   3.2 The general legal duty to ensure the effective protection of human rights
      3.2.1 The universal level
      3.2.2 The regional level
   3.3 The duty to prevent human rights violations
      3.3.1 The universal level
      3.3.2 The regional level
   3.4 The duty to provide domestic remedies
      3.4.1 The universal level
      3.4.2 The regional level
   3.5 The duty to investigate, prosecute and punish
      3.5.1 The universal level
      3.5.2 The regional level
      3.5.3 The role of victims during investigations and court proceedings
   3.6 The duty to provide redress for human rights violations
      3.6.1 Restitution and compensation
      3.6.2 Rehabilitation
   3.7 The problem of impunity for human rights violations
      3.7.1 Impunity from a legal perspective
      3.7.2 Justice, impunity and reconciliation

4. The Role of Judges, Prosecutors and Lawyers in Ensuring Justice for Victims of Crime and Human Rights Violations

5. Concluding Remarks
Chapter 16
The Administration of Justice During States of Emergency ..................................................811

Learning Objectives...........................................................................................................811
Questions .........................................................................................................................811
Relevant Legal Instruments..............................................................................................812

1. Introduction.................................................................................................................813
   1.1 General introductory remarks................................................................................813
   1.2 Introductory remarks on limitations and derogations in the field of human rights ....814

2. The Notion of Public Emergency in International Human Rights Law .........................815
   2.1 Relevant legal provisions.......................................................................................815
      2.1.1 Derogations and the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights .........816
   2.2. Derogations from legal obligations: A dilemma for the drafters.........................816
   2.3 The interpretation of the international monitoring bodies......................................821
      2.3.1 Article 4(1) of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights ........821
      2.3.2 Article 27(1) of the American Convention on Human Rights .......................825
      2.3.3 Article 15(1) of the European Convention on Human Rights.........................827

3. Non-Derogable Rights and Obligations in International Human Rights Law .................831
   3.1 Introductory remarks..............................................................................................831
   3.2 Relevant legal provisions.......................................................................................832
   3.3 The right to life........................................................................................................833
   3.4 The right to freedom from torture and from cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.........................................................................................835
   3.5 The right to humane treatment.............................................................................837
   3.6 The right to freedom from slavery and servitude.................................................838
   3.7 The right to freedom from ex post facto laws and the principle of ne bis in idem....839
      3.7.1 The prohibition of ex post facto laws.............................................................839
      3.7.2 The principle of ne bis in idem ......................................................................840
   3.8 The right to recognition as a legal person.............................................................842
   3.9 The right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion....................................842
   3.10 The right not to be imprisoned merely on the ground of inability to fulfil a contractual obligation.............................................................843
   3.11 The rights of the family.......................................................................................844
   3.12 The right to a name.............................................................................................844
NOTE

The designations employed and the presentation of the material in this publication do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the Secretariat of the United Nations concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area, or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries.

* * *

Material contained in this series may be freely quoted or reprinted, provided credit is given and a copy of the publication containing the reprinted material is sent to the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, United Nations, 1211 Geneva 10, Switzerland.