List of the main customary laws in Eritrea

The customary law of the Adkeme Melgae, codified in 1936 in Tigrinya, applies to the residents of the former province of Seraye who are the descendant of the twins Adkeme and Melgae.

The customary code of Habsulus Nay Gebrekristos Nay Deqqiteshim was proclaimed in 1909. It applies to the descendants of Atoshim who are mostly living in Asmara.

The customary code Enda Fgray Waela Seleste Tsimaro was allegedly written in 1221 and applies to the Timiza Seraye community who lives at the border of the former provinces of Akkele Guzai and Seraye.

The customary law of the Adgna Tegeleba was codified in 1937 in Tigrinya and applies to the residents of the former province of Akkele Guzai, both Christians and Muslims.

The customary law of the Logo Chiwa was initially codified in 1492 and revised several times since then, including in 1910 to be translated in Tigrinya. It was also revised in 1918 and in 1946. It governs both the Loggo Chiwa and the Kebesa Chiwa communities who are living in certain parts of the former Hamassien and Seraye provinces (south and south east of Asmara), both Christians and Muslims.

The customary law of the Dembezan was written in 1918 and governs the Dembezan communities who live in 16 villages north of Asmara. It was revised several times until 1977.

The customary law of the Karneshm was codified in 1918 in Tigrinya. It applies to the Karneshm community that lives north of Asmara known as the Northern sea coast.

The customary law of the Sehartn Lamzan Weqertn Damban was codified in 1918. It applies to the Seharti, Lamza, Weqerti and Damba communities living in the same region south of Asmara.

The customary law of the Shewate Anseba Zemat Tahtay codified in 1918 in Tigrinya applies to the people living in the Anseba river basin at the north and northwest of Asmara.

The customary code of the Mense’a tribes from the Tigre ethnic group and is called Fithi Mehari of Mensa’e. It was codified in 1913 in Tigre by a Swedish Pastor, Karl Gustav Rödden, after ten years of meticulous research. It governs both Christians and Muslims groups.

The customary code of the Soho ethnic group is called Iqanun Alauruf LilMushumin Akkel Guzai Leliqebae AlSaho. It was codified in Arabic in 1943 and applies to the Muslims inhabitants of the Akkele Guzai former province.

The customary code of the Ben-Amir tribes is called Alqanun Alauruf Liqebael AlBeniAmir. It was codified in 1958 and applies to the Amir Tribes from the Tigre ethnic group in the Gash Berka region.

The customary law of the Sahel Tribes was codified in 1958 in Arabic in the Alqanun Alauruf Liqebael AlSahel Al’am. It applies to the 24 tribes from the Tigre ethnic group who were living in the former Sahel province.

The customary code of the Maria Tribes is called Alqanun Alauruf Liqebael AlMariatain and applies to the two tribes of the Black and Red Maria tribes, which are both from the Tigre ethnic group. It was first codified in 1977 and published in 1989.

The customary code of the Eritrean Afar ethnic group is called Bur Eli Med’a, and its current version was codified in 1973.

The customary law of the Bilen was codified in 2005 and governs the three Bilen kinfolks and both Christians and Muslims communities.

The customary code of Enga’na, S’rat Atsmi Harmaz, which governs the Enga’na community living the former Akkele Ghuzai province, was put in writing but has never been formally proclaimed.

The customary law of the Kunama, Nara, Reshaida and Hidareb is not codified but orally remembered and administered consistently.

Satellite images of Sawa, Wi’a and Mai Serwa provided by the United Nations Institute for Training and Research’s Operational Satellite Applications Programme UNOSAT
According to multiple eyewitness accounts, the 6th Brigade Prison, is located east of the military camp (map page 1). Former inmates depict the location of the detention facility East of the hill where guard posts are used to control movement in and out of the installation. UNOSAT satellite imagery based analysis identified the location and main features of this facilities inside the fenced perimeter that are being used to detain prisoners. Furthermore, UNOSAT assesses that the 6th Brigade Prison seems to be operational. Imagery between 2005 and 2015 shows construction activity not only inside the prison facility, but across the military camp.
Enda Safa detention facility is located east of Sawa military camp and approximately 550 meters north of the 9th Brigade detention facility. UNOSAT satellite imagery-based analysis identified the location and main features of this facility inside the fenced perimeter. The presence of a vehicle outside the fenced perimeter in the imagery collected on 3 April 2015 indicates that the compound is still in use. Since 2005, the perimeter of the compound has increased, and the fence has been reinforced.
According to multiple eyewitness accounts, Wi'a was abandoned in 2009 after a meningitis outbreak. UNOSAT satellite imagery-based change detection analysis identified nine buildings with new roofs in imagery from 2015. Imagery from 9 March 2015 shows nine previously roofless buildings, as seen on imagery from 28 December 2010 (blue arrows), with new roofs. This is a clear indication of activity between 2010 and 2015. Additionally, UNOSAT identified a possible graveyard used to bury the dead and a dry riverbed purportedly used by inmates to wash (see Figure 2).
Mai Serwa is a detention facility located approximately 8 km northwest of the city of Asmara. UNOSAT satellite imagery-based analysis identified the location and main features of this facility. According to witnesses, the detention facility has various types of cells. Witnesses reported the existence of metal containers, two underground trucks containers and several zinc hangars of about 25 square meters. Imager collected on 31 July 2010 shows the presence of a total of 28 structures that are possibly metal containers. Imagery also shows a total of 14 different structures that match the description as zinc hangars. As of 26 May 2015 the number of possible metal containers remains similar, approximately 28, although their distribution has changed. The possible hangars are still visible by 26 May 2015.
This is a preliminary assessment and has not yet been validated in the field. Please send feedback to UNITAR/UNOSAT at the contact information below.
