II. MANDATE-SPECIFIC COMPETENCE / QUALIFICATIONS / KNOWLEDGE

NOTE: Please describe why the candidate’s competence / qualifications / knowledge is relevant in relation to the specific mandate:

1. QUALIFICATIONS (200 words limit)
Relevant educational qualifications or equivalent professional experience in the field of human rights; good communication skills (i.e. orally and in writing) in one of the six official languages of the United Nations (i.e. Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian, Spanish.)

I am a bachelor in political science and sociology, expert in international relations. I speak fluently Portuguese, English, Spanish, Working Knowledge of French, and Elementary German and Italian.

2. RELEVANT EXPERTISE (200 words limit)
Knowledge of international human rights instruments, norms and principles. (Please state how this was acquired.)
Knowledge of institutional mandates related to the United Nations or other international or regional organizations’ work in the area of human rights and particularly in the area of the mandate. (Please state how this was acquired.)
Proven work experience in the field of human rights and particularly in the area of the mandate. (Please state years of experience.)

In the classical study of Norberto Bobbio regarding the evolution of human rights, he establishes four generations of principles based on legal, political, social, and economic aspects of access to social well-being and an environment of peace and self-determination. In the current post-modern society, international human rights are under the aegis of diversity, equity, and inclusion. Thus, they need to attend and defend a vast plethora of individual voices, desires, and dreams, equity principles of access to public goods, and inclusion of the diverse ethnic and social world groups into the same spaces and places, creating and promoting sharing environment and co-living. In this diverse environment of performativities, identity networks, and communities, it is important to trace and screen the demands, cosmovisions, and interests of public choices and pressure groups. That is, human rights need to take a close observation on minorities and ethnic groups that are persecuted for their beliefs, profession, race, religion, skin color, and social and geographical origins.
The article authored by the that I cite hereunder sheds light upon this new institutional context of the post-modern society in the transition to a new form of states and political institutions, resilient and chaotic governance system, and multicultural advocacy coalition networks.

3. ESTABLISHED COMPETENCE (200 words limit)
Nationally, regionally or internationally recognized competence related to human rights. (Please explain how such competence was acquired.)

I have worked with human rights since the eighties when I was a teenager involved with the grassroots ecclesial movements created by the Catholic Church of Brazil to articulate the Liberation Theology in the peripheries and small and medium-sized cities of Brazil. Within this theological and missionary process, I have begun to involved me also with landless movements, which demanded agrarian reform and land distribution for agriculture workers. Was here in our state, the Tocantins, the stage for the most bloody and cruel confronting between landowners and landless people resulting in the death of a lot of people and a priest, Padre Zozimo, two years before Chico Mendes, in Acre. These deaths were very important to begin and accelerate the distribution of land in the Amazon region, and thus, reduce the land conflict and murderers in the rural areas. Currently, as a scholar, my research as a political scientist and sociologist considers the new era of human rights, within the context of the post-modern and global civil society, diverse, open, digital, inclusive, resilient.

Name of the nominating entity and additional information about the nomination (use if applicable, for third-party nominations only) (200 words limit):

Since the eighties I have worked with human rights in Brazil, specifically in the Amazon region, in agrarian and land conflicts, marginalized people and communities. In the nineties, after the United Nations Conference RIO-92, I have worked for UNDP (United Nations Development Programme) as an expert in the Amazon region, with forest dwellers and riverine and extractive communities and populations. My academic and theoretical research as a scholar has been based upon the new sociological and political trends where civic capacity, science, and communication (practice) is becoming and have been the new vectors of the social and political action, interaction, communication, and institutionalization. In this way, this mandate will be very fruitful and worthwhile for me both as a citizen and as a scholar and researcher.
III. MOTIVATION LETTER, INCLUDING YOUR VISION OF THE MANDATE
(600 word limit. Must be typed in the space below and not sent in a separate email or as an attachment. To be drafted and signed (i.e. with a typed signature) by the candidate himself/herself even if nominated by another entity.)

Dear Madam/Sir,

I am very pleased to send to you my application for the mandate of Delegate for the Working Group on the issue of human rights and transnational corporations and other business enterprises, member from Latin American and Caribbean States. As I have related in the previous sessions of this form, Relevant Expertise and Established Competence, since my teenage and youth I have worked with human rights in Brazil, in the eighties, in a society still under a authoritarian political and military regime in democratization. Anyway, due to social, economic, and environmental frailties of the Brazilian and Latin American Societies and the authoritarian recurrence, the struggle for the human rights is a ever present social and political agenda.

As can be read in the article authored by me, the new human rights agenda is everyday bigger, since it brought together the minorities and ethnic groups rights, as well as, the rights of the identities groups and their performativities (Judith Butler), which sometimes have considered as a social threat and moral shent, as has been happen currently in Brazil for the extreme rights movements.

On the other hand, the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs, 2011) set out preventive and precautionary principles regarding bad conditions of working in terms of safety, health, burnout, modern slavery, and insufficient remuneration, an old political and social that need be equationated in the context of the global civil society and more social, economic, and trade integration.

Considering thus my social and academic interests and commitments, both as a citizen and as a scholar and researcher, I would be very happy and grateful whether I am invited for this Mandate at the United Nations Human Rights Council.

Araguacema, Tocantins, 9 June, 2021.
