

PROFESSOR VERENE A. SHEPHERD

Verene A. Shepherd, host of Talking History on Nationwide 90 FM, is a Social Historian, a Vice-Chair of the United Nations Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination, Director of the Centre for Reparation Research and the immediate past University Director of the Institute for Gender & Development Studies at The University of the West Indies. She spent 5 years as a member of the UN's Working Group of Experts on People of African Descent, 2 as Chair. A published author, she has written several books, among them, I want to Disturb my Neighbour: Lectures on Slavery, Emancipation & Postcolonial Jamaica (2007); Livestock, Sugar & Slavery: Contested Terrain in Colonial Jamaica (2009) and Maharani's Misery: Narratives of a Passage from India to the Caribbean (2002). Her awards include the Government of Jamaica's Order of Distinction, Commander Class, for outstanding service to Education in History and Gender Studies; The UWI Vice Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Public Service; was one of the 70+7 women awarded for service to The UWI during the institution's 70th anniversary celebrations, and is one of 60 women included in the Gleaner's Jamaican Women of Distinction (2020). She is also one of two recipients of the 2020 President's Award at the St. Martin Book Fair in June 2020.