Dear Sir/Madam,

RE: CSR EUROPE – SUPPORTING EUROPEAN BUSINESS IMPLEMENT THE UN FRAMEWORK AND GUIDING PRINCIPLES

CSR Europe is pleased to note that an expert group is in place to work with business towards implementing the UN Framework and Guiding Principles.

As Europe’s leading business network for CSR, we would welcome the opportunity to support and contribute to your work through our activities.

Through our strategic initiative, Enterprise 2020, CSR Europe acts as a platform for action, collaboration and social innovation by and for practitioners. We do this by bringing together companies and stakeholders in collaborative partnerships to address key societal challenges, one of which is supply chain, business and human rights.

The recently announced European Communication on CSR recognizes Enterprise 2020 as an example of business leadership that is particularly relevant to EU policy objectives. With this in mind, the European Commission (EC) will work with CSR Europe to help review the initial results of Enterprise 2020 at the end of 2012; and to define its next steps.

The EC Communication on CSR emphasizes the imperative for European companies to respect human rights and work with the UN Framework and Guiding Principles. CSR Europe will be seeking to achieve this with its network through its collaborative project on sustainable supply chains, business and human rights.

The collaborative project seeks to:

- identify and share good practices of companies implementing the UN Framework and Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights
- develop practical tools, based on good practices, to support implementation of the UN Framework and Guiding Principles

Attached is an overview of the collaborative project for your reference. This overview also highlights key business challenges on implementing the UN Framework and Guiding Principles, which may be of interest to you, from the project workshop we held on 2nd December 2011 with already more than 25 representatives from multinational companies and CSR business networks in Germany (econsense), the Netherlands (MVO Netherlands) and Spain (Forética).

We are already in dialogue with the European Commission to ensure that our project’s activities and outcomes are complementary to (not duplicating) the announced sector-specific and SME human rights guidance work from the Commission.

In the same way, we would like to explore with your working group how we can ensure that our work is complementary to (and not duplicating) the future work that will be developed by your working group.

Kindly note that, at this stage, we are considering orientating our work towards training/capacity building on HR related issues; grievance mechanisms.

We would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your working group’s objectives through our project’s scope and activities. To this end, kindly let me know if you would be available for a meeting or conference call end January/early February 2012 to discuss this further.

We look forward to your feedback, and we wish you success with your mandate.

Sincerely,

Susan Njoroge
About CSR Europe

Key Next Steps

- European Commission will be developing sector specific and SME human rights implementation guidances

- A wide range of guidances and tools already exist and are being developed to address business HRts policy, assessment, due diligence

  ➢ Action: CSR Europe’s collaborative project should address a ‘niche’ focus to support implementing the UNGPs e.g. training/capacity building; grievance mechanisms

- Human Rights Council have been tasked to promote respect for human rights by business

  ➢ Action: Make contact with this expert group to introduce the collaborative project and where it can contribute, support, add value to the expert group’s work

- The project’s (niche) focus should be identified and the project plan/activities revised for project implementation in 2012

  ➢ Action: Revise project plan and activities for approval by project leaders late Jan 2012
