Part 2: COMPONENTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS

A. Educational policies\(^1\) and policy implementation

10. Do education laws, education policies and education policy objectives exist which explicitly refer to the following?\(^2\)

- Human rights \(\square\) \(\square\)
- The right to education \(\square\) \(\square\)
- A rights-based approach to education \(\square\) \(\square\)
- Human rights education \(\square\) \(\square\)

You may elaborate further if you wish:

11. Is human rights education incorporated in national plans and strategies including those listed below where they exist?\(^3\)

- National human rights plans \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\checkmark\)
- National plans of action against racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\square\)
- National poverty reduction strategies and other development plans \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\square\)
- National sectoral plans for primary and secondary education \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\square\)
- National plans for Education for All (EFA) \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\square\)
- National policy frameworks as part of the Decade on Education for Sustainable Development (2005-2014) \(\square\) \(\square\) \(\square\)

If yes to any of the above, please elaborate.

12. Has a national implementation strategy been developed to implement any human rights education policy objective?\(^4\)

- Human rights education is part of the National Curriculum for Basic Schools and Upper Secondary Schools.

---

\(^1\) Education policies according to the Plan of Action include legislation, plans of action, curricula and training policies.

\(^2\) Plan of Action, appendix A.2-5.

\(^3\) Plan of Action, appendix A.5(d).

\(^4\) Plan of Action, appendix B.10.
If yes, have young people/learners been involved in both developing the national implementation strategy and in its implementation?

Student organisations made proposals to the National Curriculum.

Has the strategy been published and disseminated? If yes, please share a copy or refer to a website address if available online.

National Curriculum is published in Riigi Teataja www.riigiteataja.ee

13. Is human rights education present in the national curriculum and educational standards? If yes, please explain its status (e.g. obligatory or optional, subject-based or cross-curricular?).

Human rights education is a compulsory topic in civics.

14. Please state whether guidelines exist for writing or revising textbooks that reflect human rights principles?

Textbooks should follow aims and objectives of the National Curriculum and outcomes of the subjects' syllabuses.

Have textbooks been prepared according to these guidelines?

Yes.

15. Please refer to any national or sub-national policies that promote a human rights-based approach to school governance, management, discipline procedures, inclusion policies and other regulations and practices affecting the school culture and access to education.

The Education Act of the Estonian Republic, the Basic Schools and Upper Secondary Schools Act.

Human rights are also reflected in the Constitution's 2nd chapter and in Gender Equality Act.

16. Is there a comprehensive training policy on human rights education for teachers and other educational personnel in schools?

No.

B. Learning environment

5 Plan of Action, appendix A.5(e)(ii)-(iv).
6 Plan of Action, appendix A.5(e)(viii).
7 Plan of Action, appendix A.5(e)(ix).
8 Plan of Action, appendix A.5(f).
17. Are human rights integrated into the learning environments of schools including school governance and management?\(^9\) Please mark on a scale from 1 to 5 (1 = Yes, comprehensively, 5 = Not at all):

Yes, comprehensively  1  2  3  4  5  Not at all

\[\text{Not at all}\]

18. Do practices not defined as human rights education exist in your country which reflect the principles of the rights-based approach to education, such as peace education, citizenship and values education, multicultural education, global education, education for tolerance or education for sustainable development?\(^10\) If yes, please explain.

All these principles are included into the National Curriculum.

19. Do opportunities exist in schools for students to express themselves freely, to have responsibility, to participate in decision making (in accordance with their age and evolving capacity) and to organize for their own interests?\(^11\) Please mark on a scale from 1 to 5 (1 = Comprehensive opportunities exist, 5 = Not at all):

Comprehensive opportunities exist  1  2  3  4  5  Not at all

- To express themselves
- To have responsibility
- To participate in decision making
- To organize for their own interests

There are pupils'/students' governments in every Estonian school.

20. Are there interactions between schools, local government, civil society and the wider community facilitating awareness of children’s rights and the key principles of human rights education?\(^12\) Please mark on a scale from 1 to 5 (1 = Comprehensive interactions take place, 5 = Not at all):

Comprehensive interactions take place  1  2  3  4  5  Not at all

Estonian Association of Parents and Estonian Union for Child Welfare are very active in society to protect childrens' rights, as well as the Ministry of Social Affairs.

Schools have to evaluate themselves, National Examination Test in civics shows knowledge and skills of pupils/students.

22. Please outline how schools fund human rights education including sources and the percentage of State budget allocated in this area?

Human Rights are part of the civics' course. Textbooks and workbooks are payed by the state. Teachers in-service training is supported by the state.

C. Teaching and learning processes

23. Do curriculum subjects in primary and secondary schooling include human rights education? If so, which curriculum subjects include human rights education at primary and secondary levels?

Civics and social science at all school levels.

How many hours are taught and at what grade levels?

It is not possible to account hours. The topic is integrative and as the curriculum is open, it is up to teacher to decide how many lessons to concentrate on certain topics.

24. Do learning methodologies associated with these human rights education activities exist which are child friendly, learner-centred and encourage participation? Please mark on a scale from 1 to 5 (1 = Yes, comprehensively, 5 = Not at all):

Yes, comprehensively | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | Not at all
|---------------------|---|---|---|---|---|------------|

Curriculum stresses strongly learner-centred teaching.

25. Which institution(s) has/have the authority to develop, approve and change curricula?

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Is participation voluntary or mandatory?

Since 2000, professional in-service training is compulsory for teachers. The framework requirements of teacher's training established the obligation for teachers to pass a minimum of 160 hours of professional training every five years and for vocational teachers – a minimum of two months of professional training every three years. The schools make decisions on in-service training according to their needs and development plans.

How many hours are offered?

See above.

28. To what extent is learning, good practice, research and materials collected and made available to educators in human rights education?

It is up to the interest of the certain person. Everything is available on the Internet.

29. To what extent do recruitment, appraisal and promotion policies for teachers, headmasters and school inspectors reflect human rights principles?

19 Plan of Action, III D.28 and appendix D.19(c).
20 Plan of Action, appendix D.19(c).
22 Plan of Action appendix D.19(d).
Recruitment, appraisal and promotion policies for teachers, headmasters etc. are regulated by law and other legal acts that are in accordance with the human rights principles declared by the Constitution.

30. How are human rights trainings for teachers assessed?24

Teachers are evaluating in-service training after courses (evaluation sheet).

35. (Optional). Please describe the methodology and process adopted in preparing your national evaluation report:

36. Please make any other comments not provided elsewhere:

Other activities on HRE:

The Estonian History Teachers’ Association (www.eas.edu.ee) participated in an international human rights education project in 2007-2008. EUROCLIO questionnaire on human rights education was answered in 2008 when a working seminar took place in the frames of the project. The aims of the project were to exchange good practices and experiences between participating countries and to discuss the possibilities of improving the teaching mechanisms of human rights in general education schools. Estonia contributed with a chapter from the teaching material “Man and Society” (published in 2006) which was highly valued by the evaluation committee.

To be used in schools, Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union (with comments), directives 2000/43 and 2000/78 of the Council of the European Union have been translated and printed in Estonian and Russian. Schools have also received the texts of the Convention of the Rights of the Child and UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

In 2008, methodical materials of the International Humanitarian Law were translated into Estonian, a thematic seminar was organized and the materials were tested in schools; in co-operation with the International Committee of the Red Cross an elective course “Humanitarian law” has been developed. The implementation of the initiative is continuing.

Conclusion:

The system of human rights education in Estonia needs to be continually developed; it is planned to systematically update and prepare relevant teaching materials. In-service trainings and placing human rights into teachers’ basic education programme are also to be continued.
